culminated tonight in two memorable mass meetings. These were held in Massey Hall and Cooke's Church, both of which were crowded to excess. The addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr.

The interest was even deeper in the afternoon and the applause more frequent. The addresses are in all cases limited in time and during the day none of the speakers exceeded this

The meeting was not open to members of the press but they were afterwards complimentary with the speaker.

Delegate W. H. Clarke, representing the Street Railway Men's Union, addressed the council and called at-

Attention to the recent schedule which Assistant Superintendent Randall published a short time ago. It called for a sixteen hour day and was refused. Regarding the threatened strike, W.

Building Trades Committee.

The matter of a building trades committee within the Trades council to handle business dealing directly with the building trades came in for a lot of discussion.

As it was the intention of those actively engaged in the forming of this committee that it should be merely a sub-body to take the heavier business matters pertaining to the building trades off the shoulders of the Trades and Labor council, thus giving this latter body more time to general matters, much of the discussion last night was evidently through a misunderstanding of the intended part that this building committee should play in respect to the Trades council. However, as the matter of this building trades committee is still awaiting the sanction of the delegates of the various unions, the matter is still in abeyance until these bodies make an opinion upon it.

school papers of the denomination and one or two others.

Dr. Fraser paid a compliment to the press volunteering the statement that so far as he was aware there was no metropolitan paper in Canada which could be safely taken into a Canadian home and that the weekly papers, of which there were 120 printed in the Dominion, followed closely the lead of the great dailies in this regard.

Plea for Freedom.

Principal Palmer in his address made a plea for greater religious freedom, and for a willingness to give the spirit of inquiry. He made the only reference of the day to the matter of church union, when he said, incidentally, that it was the newer thought of the old world which had led men to lay emphasis on the essentials and to disregard the non-essentials and had thus prepared the way for organic unity. Men of an earlier day had laid too great emphasis on non-essentials and in this way brought unfortunate schisms.

In reference to the university, Principal Palmer stated that it was a condition of the existence of such an institution that its teachers should be free and untrammelled, both in thought and teaching. There was a fair in the public mind at this point. Men occasionally distrusted the possible drift of university thought. The university must be absolutely free and the students who passed through such a university would come out morally and mentally stronger than they would be the case if other conditions prevailed.

Infants With Unknown Fathers.

Dr. Alex. Macdill, a popular Toronto pastor, in speaking of the rights of children, and emphasizing the statement that the church and the state ought to seek to give a chance to the child unfortunate in parentage, made the extraordinary statement that in Toronto in 1912 there were buried one hundred infants whose fathers were unknown, and whose mothers did not deplore the death. In the majority of these cases no minister was asked to offer a prayer, the body was laid in the lotter's field. Dr. Macdill also stated that in spite of the vast machinery at the command of the church there were fewer of the children of Protestantism taken into full membership in 1912 than in 1911, and fewer in 1911 than in 1910. The church was not only failing to make gains from the world but was also failing to hold in its membership the children trained in its schools.

Not more than fifteen per cent of the boys in the Sunday schools, he said, were received in full communion with the denomination.

The Opportunity in China.

Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKenzie, in his evening address dealt with the opportunity for noble work in China, of the work which had been done in that land and of the opportunity which was presented by the change in the civil government of the nation.

LIBERAL MEMBERS SEEK SALARY INCREASE

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Ottawa, June 2.—The Evening Citizen says:

"The movement to secure an increased indemnity this session for members of the House is in full swing, but no decision has yet been reached. If anything is done it will be in the form of bonus rather than a straight salary increase.

"During the length of the session, 1912-13, being allotted for and the round robin, the House has been largely signed. This session was not so arranged.

"We have not decided the matter, but I should say the outcome is not favorable, and one of the ministers today."

ROAD FROM HINTON TO SASKATOON LAKE

Residents of Both G. T. P. Town and Grande Prairie Centre Vast Shortage Road Constructed Between These Two Points.

A movement is on foot to get a wagon road built from Hinton, on the line of the G. T. P. to Saskatoon Lake in Grande Prairie.

The residents in both places are strongly in favor of the road and are prepared to do a great deal towards getting the road built. So far as Hinton is concerned it cannot be said that the people are in the proposition to build a road to the local residents of the town are all acquainted with G. T. P. property, more or less. Nevertheless there is a station at Hinton and all G. T. P. stop there.

Hinton is a point half way between Edmonton and Peace River, and the trail from that point, it is claimed, has always been known, as a short, direct, and most direct way, into the Peace River country. The trail was built by the G. T. P. and the G. T. P. has a large pack trail to the Peace River. The trail was built by the G. T. P. and the G. T. P. has a large pack trail to the Peace River. Stock Market Depression.

LONDON, June 2.—The recent depression in the stock exchange was deepened today by further liquidation and underbidding sales. Brazilian rails, Canadian Pacific, and the Canadian Pacific were the worst sufferers. The fall in the latter amounted to 10 points since the last settlement. Creating fears of financial trouble. Canada and home rails, especially the Canadian Pacific, were offered locally, while copper stocks were weak in sympathy with the metal.

Money was in strong demand and discount rates were firmer.

Germany is expected to take the bulk of the $135,000 new gold offered for sale on the open market this week.

BURDEN NOT ANXIOUS TO OPEN VACANT SEATS

Mr. Sydney Fisher Will be Candidate in Chateaugay—Two Other Vacancies in Ontario House, Caused by Death and Resignation.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Ottawa, June 2.—The Evening Free Press, the Liberal weekly, says:

"Mr. Sydney Fisher is likely to be a member of the House of Commons again within a short time. It is understood that he will likely be offered the Liberal nomination for the riding of Chateaugay, caused by the death of J. P. Brown, who represented that riding in several previous sessions."

Mr. Fisher is expected to accept. Liberal members say that should he do so there will be no doubt Liberal majority. There are two other vacancies in the House, one occasioned by the death of Hon. Haggard, and the other by the resignation of J. J. Donnelly to the Senate.

"It is understood that the Government is not anxious to open vacant seats in Chateaugay or South Bruce until the next election, and it will not be until then that the Government will be asked to open vacant seats."

TO BE NO STRIKE SAYS DELEGATE

Somehow of a climax was reached Sunday afternoon when Assistant Superintendent Randall "Red" Inspector Moir. According to Randall, Moir had been getting too high-handed and had been refusing the carry out orders in a proper spirit. So he discussed him privately. As far as the demands of Moir is concerned, it is understood the employees will stand fast.

Some two weeks ago, Assistant Superintendent Randall pointed out a new schedule. This schedule called for a seven and a half minute service on Jasper Avenue West, and round South Side, Packing Plant, and Highbridge cars up First street. It also called for some employees to be on duty every six in the morning until midnight. The men refused to sign this schedule, and no further attempt was made to put it in operation.

The immediate question was as to in what way the employees were to be served in street railway affairs. "Who is to be?"

Woodroffe Will Not Resign.

Cont. Engineer Woodroffe has made his report and recommendations as to the street railway. There have been expert in a large measure by the city commissioners. Superintendent Woodroffe has not been able to agree with some of the recommendations.

Superintendent Woodroffe was asked yesterday whether he intended to resign.

"No," he replied, "I do not. I feel I am right in my stand on many questions now before the commission, and if I am to be ousted, the proper officials will have to dismiss me."

"Have you heard of the possible promotion of Mr. Randall as Superintendent?"

Mr. Woodroffe had not. He did not care to make any statements until the matter had been discussed before Mayor Stuart. All he knew was that things did not go on as at present.

Too Many Buses.

"There are too many buses," declared one employee of the street railway who was spoken to by a Bulletin reporter. "The buses do not know where they are at with the management as it is at present, and when men are fired at such a rate as the Chief Inspector Moir, the men feel that changes are liable to occur at any moment."

While the dismissal of Moir was the chief topic of the street railway men this morning, the men in general do not show resentment of the action of the association superintendent. They think, however, that rather too much power has been given to a man who may be actuated by jealousy in a case where he may not have succeeded as well as an employee who has been superseded.

Refuse To Sign It.

It will be recalled that the men refused to agree to the new schedule drawn up by H. M. Randall, the assistant superintendent, preferring the old schedule which was drawn up by Moir.

The men's objection to the new schedule was that it proposed an undue speeding up of the service.

THE KING'S PRIZE TO BE SHOT OFF AT HOME

Army Council Makes Suggestion to National Rifle Association, Which Will Revitalize Rifle Shooting—King's Prize Will Not Be Shot at Biscay.

LONDON, June 2.—It is reported that the army council has made important proposals to the National Rifle Association in regard to future competition in rifle shooting, which, if they become effective, will revitalize the rifle shooting and practice throughout the British empire with the object of bringing them more closely into line with actual war conditions.

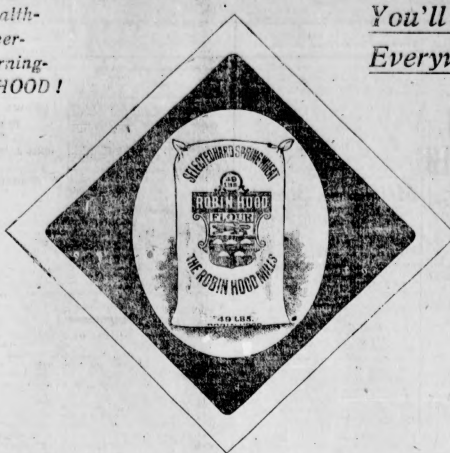

The army council, among other things, propose that the King's Prize should be contested for in the year 1914 and thereafter, wherever throughout the British dominions rifle shooting is at present carried on to qualify for the great British annual prize. It is also proposed that in each locality as a special test, being open to the army, the navy, the territorial and the fact that all members of the army's services, and that the contest shall be carried out throughout the empire more or less simultaneously without restriction on rifle used at present.

Three conferences on the subject have been held between army council and the council of the National Rifle Association, the latter being an unofficial body which controls the British shooting. It is stated that the army council has issued what is practically an ultimatum on the subject.

Many Organisms to Celebrate.

INSURANCE AT RECENT FIRE.
The following is a partial list of insurance carried by the losers in the recent North Edmonton fire:
Mr. Martel, of North Edmonton, $12,000.

Mr. S. Adams, $500.
Mr. Cowal, $100.
J. C. O. Briere, $2,000.

In most cases the loss is greatly in excess of the insurance carried. The loss was not all covered by insurance. James A. Henning, fire insurance adjuster, has been busy for some time on the claims. The ruins are now being cleaned up and preparations made for rebuilding.

A small frame building is being erected which may be used for a temporary barroom for the North Edmonton Hotel, which was destroyed by fire. A. Brier has opened a small stock of merchandise in the building formerly occupied by J. C. O. Briere as a real estate office. Gardiner and Co. are rebuilding their premises.

After the insurance adjuster permitted and when the ruins had cooled sufficiently, the sides of the building destroyed in the fire were examined and the contents found to be all right.

AROUND THE CITY

Mrs. Margaret Fleming died Sunday at Delton hospital, aged 32. Funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at family residence.

The cadet companies of the Northwest and McCreary public schools were inspected yesterday by Major W. H. Deane, inspector of cadets of Military District 12. This afternoon the high school cadets will be reviewed.

COMPLAINT AGAINST TEAMSTERS.
Complaints have been reaching the police with regard to the habit by which teamsters leave their teams at large standing on the streets, detached from their wagons. Teamsters are also accused of obstructing traffic, particularly on the Clover leaf road and around the lower bridge. Several charges have been laid this week and fines imposed. The police intend to take this opportunity of warning teamsters to refrain from obstruction.

TAXI-CABS IN OPERATION.
There were two taxi-cabs operating on the city streets yesterday. The cabs are in the city of Calgary, by the end of the week the number will be increased to six, and by June 10 there should be fifteen in service here.

The cabs are stationed at the King Edward Hotel and can be reached by phone call to hotel. Yesterday returning cabs were kept busy answering calls. It was expected that the cabs would be in the city on Saturday and a number of calls were received for them at the King Edward Hotel Sunday.

The machines are of the Ford make, black bodies with the silver crest and stripes on the door. They are new machines and the drivers are smart, uniformed. As the car travels the amount of the fare is registered automatically on the dial of the register, which can be seen by the passenger.

POLICE HAVE NO CLUE TO THE SAFE ROBBERY

"Robbery Not at All Surprising," Says Well-Known Local Detective. "In View of Ring-up System, Which Divers Policemen's Attention From Their Duties."

Though the police are scouring the city and vicinity in quest of the robbers who carried off the safe from Geo. Lazarus's store, 617 Kingston avenue, in the early hours of Sunday morning, no satisfactory clue as yet to hand, and as the thieves had a horse and rig, and a long start before the robbery was discovered, it is probable that they are at the present moment well beyond the reach of the law. Fortunately for Mr. Lazarus, who is a butcher, the sum of money lying in the safe at the time was only $10, and, of course, the robbery was not a serious one. The safe also contained a number of land titles and other documents, and these were thrown on the ground near the U.T.P. shops by the robbers after they had rifled the safe. The robbery of the safe, which was a small safe, one, was effected by the thieves obtaining entrance to the store through a window in the rear. This must have been after midnight, for Mr. Lazarus, who lives on Cleve avenue, was in his store on Saturday night until twelve o'clock.

Defective Detective Critic.
"The theft is not at all surprising," declared a well-known city detective yesterday to the Bulletin, "in view of the prevailing system by which constables have their attention diverted from their duties of watching for crime by the rule which obliges them to ring up the head office stated intervals. The criminal, of course, just watches for constables to be off the spot and knows that when the constable has passed a certain point he will not be seen for a certain time. These boxes ought not to be rung up to call the detective, except on special occasions."

Advises Patrol System.
"And what system would you adopt instead?" asked the Bulletin.
"The patrol system," replied the detective, by which each constable is assigned the beats to ascertain that constables are on duty. This enables constables to concentrate all their attention upon what should be their chief duty, viz., the prevention of crime."

NINE PROTESTERS ENTERED THE MINISTRY

Dr. Chas. Frederick Ordination sermon and Dr. Perry told of Methodist's development in Alberta.

Medicine Hat, June 2.—Dr. Chas. Frederick Ordination sermon at the Methodist church in Canada, preached an ordination sermon at the Methodist church here yesterday, when nine probationary ministers entered the ministry. At last night's meeting the sitting president of the conference, A. R. Perry, occupied the pulpit and presided over the ordination. In the afternoon about a thousand men attended the men's service and were addressed by several of the visiting ministers.

THERE IS NO EVIDENCE OF FALSE PRETEXTS

Chief Justice Harvey Makes This Statement in Conclusion of Evidence in Case Against Bennis, Brought by Winnipeg Health Agents.

There is no evidence of false pretences," declared Chief Justice Harvey yesterday at the end of the evidence in the case against John Bennis, charged with false pretences. The case was one in which a number of Winnipeg people are interested, being brought at the instance of F. J. Campbell, of F. J. Campbell and Company, of Winnipeg, real estate agents, and James C. Stuart. At the close of the evidence for the prosecution, Chief Justice Harvey said there was no evidence of false pretences and dismissed the charge.

Brought for $30,000.
The false pretences alleged was obtaining money from F. J. Campbell and Company from the sale of lots in the north end of the city, near the lake. Bennis, charged with false pretences, alleged that he had sold the lots to Campbell and Company, and that they had paid him $30,000 for the same. The evidence showed that Bennis had made his first payment of $3,000 on the property, which he purchased from a man named Daulton for $30,000. Bennis having completed payments he was unable to deliver the title to the property, and Campbell and Company, who stated that they had been able to make substitution in place of the title which they could not deliver.

Sold Above Price.
In reply to Mr. Bennis, Mr. Campbell in the witness-box stated that the lots were sold at about the price agreed upon between him and Mr. Stuart. Pressed for a more exact statement, he said that one or two lots were sold, under the price and the majority slightly above it. Evidence was given by Mr. Daulton that he arranged with Mr. Bennis for the sale of his quarter section at the price of $30,000, $5,000 to be paid with the agreement, $5,000 in June and $20,000 in August of 1912. He received only the first payment.

Pressed for Title.
Mr. Bennis told Campbell that he would deliver the title when he had sold the hotel at Goran, but Campbell had wanted the title in advance of any other deal within a short period, and under pressure Mr. Bennis had promised to deliver the title within the period. He had been unable to complete his other arrangements as he had expected and had been unable to secure the title.
